Hi guys, its Danny Bonnici from Nubreed here. Hope this email finds you well.

I'm writing to let you know my new mixing and mastering facility, Liquid Mixes is open for business.

Based in the inner area of Melbourne the studio is decked out with all the right sound reinforcement and monitoring gear you would expect from a professional studio. Combined with my 15+ years experience engineering all forms of Electronic music, Liquid Mixes will get you the sonic result you're after from you and your artists' music at more than competitive rates. We also offer online mixing and mastering services for those of you who are based overseas.

My website is up and running with all the details about myself, the studio and rates
