wuddup nubreakerz?!?!

this is your resident odd-ball Tweedle

i wanted to know if it would be cool if i posted, on the archives, a few short two or three track mixes? this way between the regular archives the listeners would get a taste of what im about. it's mostly the same 3 or 4 dj's on the archives and if i add a few short mixes this might help get me a little publicity :D

i would only post near perfect mixes, with fairly decent tracks, that were short and to the point. of course i would also post a few of my regular and random cover shows, too. but i mean like adding roughly 15 mixes that would consist of 2-3 tracks, living up to my cover show's title "Tweedle's Probably Random Show" and keeping it random.

let me know, im ususaly in the chat room, but you could shoot me an e-mail :

Sounds like a fine idea to me, but I suppose we will defer to Twink's opinion on the matter.

There are tons of shows in the archives, I'm not really sure if it's randomly pulled or if they have some settings they can tweak. I'll hit him up if I see him before you do and see what he says.

Peas man!
