We Fear Silence present Stanton Sessions

Saturday 19th January 2013 / Cable, London / 22.00-06.00

Room 1: Stanton Warriors, Sigma, Elite Force, High Rankin, Marten Hørger, Lady Waks, Jimi Needles

Room 2 Hosted by Supatronix: Jurassik, Se7en Deadly Breaks, Reveal, Final Conflict

Internationally renowned, and globally exported, Stanton Warriors legacy upon the break beat scene can be traced through the imprint it's left on a number of musicians over the last 20 years. Instating themselves as one of the world's finest DJ duos, their unique fusion of 2step, electro and broken beat has become a multi-national venture, as the duo find themselves collaborating all over the world.

Exclusive to Cable, Stanton Session's is the duo's chance to profile some of the best artists they come into contact with. Having seen the likes of Doorly, Hostage, MJ Cole and the duo themselves all grace the Cable decks, their latest offering is much of the same specially selected talent. On Saturday 19th January, get yourself down to the arches for a banging line-up to set you into the New Year.

This time we've got drum and bass super-icons Sigma lighting the fire ahead of Stanton's headline set. Making their grade through the UKF drum and bass ranks, the duo boast that they're 'intent on leaving their indelible mark etched permanently on the scene'. With bigger audiences, bigger sets, and bigger tunes, Sigma are bigger than ever, and their intensions are already being felt all over the drum and bass scene.

Joining Sigma and Stanton Warriors, we've got the ever forward-moving Elite Force. Voted Breakspoll's Best Producer at their 2011 awards show, Force's career has risen ever since. Hold tight and expect big things from the man who boasts a soundtrack credit for over 40 different movies. And as if that wasn't enough, we've got dubstep heart-throb High Rankin, Germany's very own Martin Hørger, and the specially flown in Lady Waks – who's dedication to her home city, St. Petersburg has seen her risen to superstar acclaim.

And as ever, hold tight for Room 2 hosted by Supatronix where Jurassik, Se7en Deadly Breaks, Final Conflict and more will be taking the decks.
