Born in Tain in Scotland, there wasn't much going for this wee lad. he had three thing in which he could do with his life. 1 = work on a fishing boat and drown!, 2 = work in a call centre and go mental! Or 3 = move to the big smoke (Glasgow). Djing since the ripe old age of 13, he started off playing house parties, and holding raves in the coo barn.

To ensure gigs, He release hip-hop mix tapes to the local boy racers and started his own dj competition in the local high school.

after moving to Glasgow 3 Years ago he has successfully got a resident slot in the Flying Duck with Cargo records/promotions, playing strange underground raves and every good block party in the west-end!

So to finish off, if you want to seek him you'll find him on the best radio station online!!! (no need to tell you what that is). Or next to the bassbin any night of the week waiting patiently for the first bass drop to kick in!! Get in!!

Monday 7 to 9pm GMT
