

Sorry about yesterday gents!

After a run that stretched from August of last year until March 8 of this year, Breaks Go Boom missed a show:cussing:. I'm still gettin' settled in ILM and had to work last night, Shatta is gettin' moved in up in RAL and will be up and online again early next week. He'll have the show set up from his new residence this coming Friday, and depending on how Kos feels I might be able to get some individual airtime of my own in somewhere else in the week. And have no fear, Breaks Go Boom is still here. We'z just... spreadin' out.
